Our Yearbook

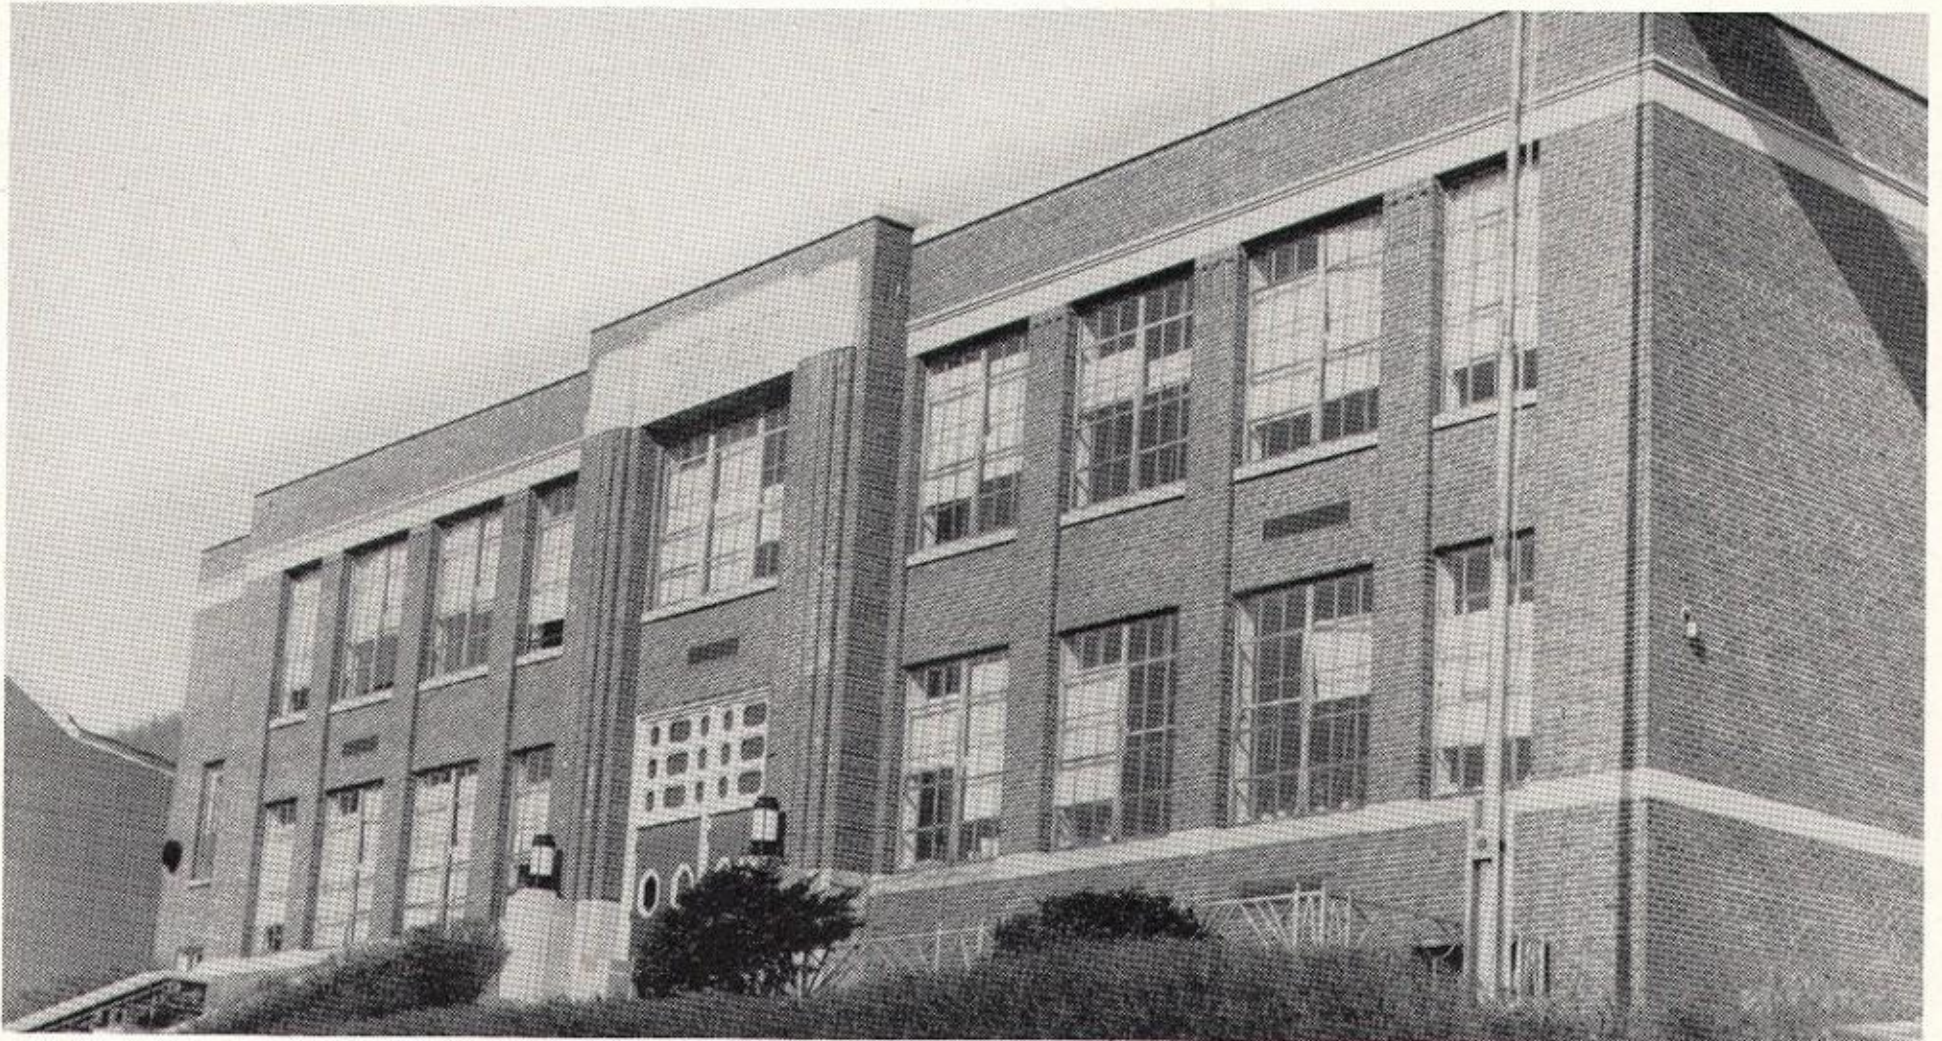

Foreword

We, the Class of 1957, hope that the pleasure we have had in creating our yearbook, may be felt by you as you read its pages. As you recall with us the events, both serious and humorous, of our school life, may our yearbook serve to help you keep alive the spirit and affection we feel for our school.

We, the Class of '57, wish to dedicate this, our yearbook, to our co-advisors Mrs. Theophilus and Mr. Keiser.

To Mrs. Theophilus we express our heartfelt thanks for her thoughtfulness and consideration to us as a co-advisor.

MR. KEISER

We sincerely appreciate all the help and cooperation that we received from them in helping to make our year-book possible. We wish to thank Mr. Keiser for all his long hours he put in with us and the advice he has given us through our Senior year.

SUPERVISING PRINCIPAL

L. B. MORRIS
JR. - SR. HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

June 11, 1957

Dear Members of the Class of '57:

This a happy occasion for you and certainly a joyous one for your loved ones. You have completed a course of study that entitles you to a high school diploma, indicative of preparation for important roles in the life of our great nation. The faculty and I congratulate you on your graduation from high school.

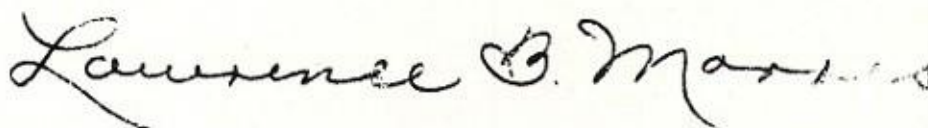

If you have developed a restless curiosity to know and understand the reasons for man's failures and successes, if the eternal truths of life have been learned so as to enrich your thinking and fortify your convictions, and if the causes of war and its resultant bloodshed and chaos have aroused in you a dedication to help secure a just and lasting peace, with all its blessings for mankind, then, you have prepared well for the future.

Whatever position in life you aspire to you will discover that it has demanding duties and pressing obligations. Punctuality in your assignments, efficiency in your work and morality in your relationships are prime requisites to be adhered to in striving to succeed.

Never betray your conscience; it is one of God's priceless gifts to you. You will be richly rewarded if the thoughts you speak and the deeds you do are said and done in the interests of your fellow men.

We wish you a fond farewell and trust that our Lord will be with you all the days of your lives.

Sincerely yours,

Lawrence B. Morris
Principal

Class Poem

Louise is fun-loving, a dependable lass,
Co-operative, neat, she's really got class.

Our letter-writer with long dark hair,
Sarah is a girl with an energetic air.

Soft-spoken, funny, her man she has found,
Janet is the girl who is altar-bound.

Active and jolly with dimples galore,
Ann is a girl who is never a bore.

Ilona's our girl who is stately and slim,
She likes different hairdos which are neat and trim.

Here is Nancy, full of fun,
Better company, there is just none.

Lucy may be quiet, but that's no sin,
A very good student who is bound to win.

Kossy has blue eyes, she's friendly and kind,
To be a hairdresser is in her mind.

Nan's as cute as a girl can be,
We hope that happiness is her destiny.

Curly hair and dimples, drives a car, too,
Of girls like Sandy there are far too few.

Rosie has a gentle air,
She's awfully nice and always fair.

She's blonde and gay with an active air,
Mary Ann and her friend make a good pair.

Sandy is a girl who is quiet and polite.
Whatever her task, it is always done right.

Stevie our co-editor, has a big heart,
You can be sure that she'll do her part.

Our yearbook editor, Kathy's quite a girl,
She's living now in a social whirl.

Virg is the girl with a friendly smile,
We find that she's tardy once in a while.

Bev is little and full of tricks,
In any crowd she's sure to mix.

Call on our Sharon for a helpful deed,
The acme of good nature, a true friend indeed.

Windy has a winning smile,
She's quite a girl and we like her style.

Tommie, our red-head, to college will go,
There we hope he'll make a good show.

Class Poem

Dale's good natured and has curly hair,
In a football suit he's beyond compare.

Dave is tall with a vigorous smile,
And off to college in a little while.

He's noted for his big blue eyes,
Johnny's the boy who's pretty wise.

A likeable fellow who can give and take,
Glen's our boy who's wide awake.

Al is the fellow who's out on a fling,
Let's hope he gets that certain thing???

Jimmy in fun, acts like a clown,
When you're with him, you never feel down.

To be a farmer is Clark's ambition,
And he will win with his disposition.

Eggie is studious and likes good books,
He has wavy hair and simple good looks.

Another farmer-to-be in our class,
Hayman's a fellow with real class.

With wavy blond hair and a carefree smile,
Herby we'll remember for quite a while.

Babe is one of our football stars,
And he's bound to go very far.

President of our class, and fine orator, too,
Dukes is an Olympian through and through.

With broad shoulders and big dark eyes,
Duane leaves the girls with loving sighs.

Up the ladder Queenie will climb,
He's a fellow who's always on time.

Rontzie devotes his life to sports
But he has a little time left to court.

Alvin's smile and winning ways,
Have one of our senior girls in a daze.

Walter's a fellow who hates to shave,
Can make all the girls become his slave.

Richie brings everyone lots of cheer,
We'll remember him for many a year.

Effie is our eleventh grade chauffeur,
Isn't that more than he could hope for?

We hear that Davey is quite a guy,
But with the girls he is really shy.

Class History

In September 1954, pupils from the west and east side of town joined together under the new school system. We were sophomores then. Our class was divided into two sections. Half were assigned to Room 2 with Miss Feeko, and the other half to Room 3 with Mr. Geiger. A few days later we had a class meeting, electing Albert Gehres, president; Alvin Sellers, vice-president; Janet Burnhauser, secretary; and Mary Ann Murray, treasurer. In this same meeting we elected Student Council representatives. Thomas Ackerman and John Brander represented Room 2 and Albert Gehres and Dale Allen represented Room 3.

In October, the Sophomore Hop was held which proved to be an outstanding success. The gym was gaily decorated in orange and black colors, with corn shocks and pumpkins artistically arranged. We danced to the music of the Ambassadors.

In June, after school was over for the year, we had a doggie roast at Hickory Run State Park. It was a fine way to end our sophomore year.

In September 1955, we came back again. We were juniors. We were assigned to Rooms 2 and 7. Our class advisors were Miss Feeko and Mr. Keiser. Later in the year Miss Feeko, having married, resigned. Her place was filled by Mrs. Theophilus. Our class officers that year were: George McArdle, president; Dale Allen, vice-president; Janet Burnhauser, secretary; and Beverly Watto, treasurer.

In April we held our Junior Prom, "Stardust Serenade." Our colors were pink, blue and white. The Knight Hawks played "Stardust" as the King and Queen, George McArdle and Louise Begel, and the Prince and Princess, Dale Allen and Mary Lou Stevens, danced. It was a dance long to be remembered.

In September 1956, forty-two happy seniors congregated on the front steps, eager to begin the last year. Half of the happy clan was assigned to Room 2 with Mrs. Theophilus, and the other half to Room 7 with Mrs. Mangan. Mrs. Theophilus and Mr. Keiser were our class advisors. Our class officers for that year were: George McArdle, president; Dale Allen, vice-president; Janet Burnhauser, secretary; and Beverly Watto, treasurer. Thomas Ackerman and Mary Lou Stevens represented Room 2 in the Student Council and David Anewalt and Kathleen Tessitore represented Room 7.

The first football game on the new home field was played against Hellertown. Our class had several outstanding men on the team. Francis Stehle and Dale Allen were elected Co-captains. Other senior men were: Thomas Ackerman, Glenn Confer, Robert Hayman, James Kroculick, and George Rontz. They all did a fine job in their last year and we are very proud of them. Mary Lou Stevens was the varsity cheer leader representing the senior class.

In October we held an important meeting in Room 7 to select our Yearbook Staff. The results were: Kathleen Tessitore, editor; Mary Lou Stevens, assistant editor; Albert Gehres, business manager; David Anewalt, circulation manager; Carol Kostishion, art editor; Thomas Ackerman, sports editor; and Rosemarie Moll, feature editor.

In November the school basketball team played its first league game against Summit Hill. Seniors on the team were: Thomas Ackerman, Dale Allen, David Anewalt, Glenn Confer, James Kroculick, Alvin Sellers, and Francis Stehle. The Jim Thorpe Olympians under their new coach, Mr. Kenneth Kline with a record of fourteen losses and nine wins, won the District 11 Class C Championship, and will meet the winner of District 1 and 3. Leading scorer was our own six-foot-three David Anewalt.

The Jim Thorpe yearlings under Mr. John Heycock had a season record of fourteen losses and four wins. The yearlings are expected to give the varsity a big boost when the Olympians lose seven seniors.

In December the Oratorical tryouts were held in Room 7. Carolyn Smith was chosen as the girls' representative and George McArdle as the boys'. We were all very proud when, a few weeks later both George and Carolyn won the County Contests. Our sincere congratulations to Mrs. Mangan who coached them on to victory.

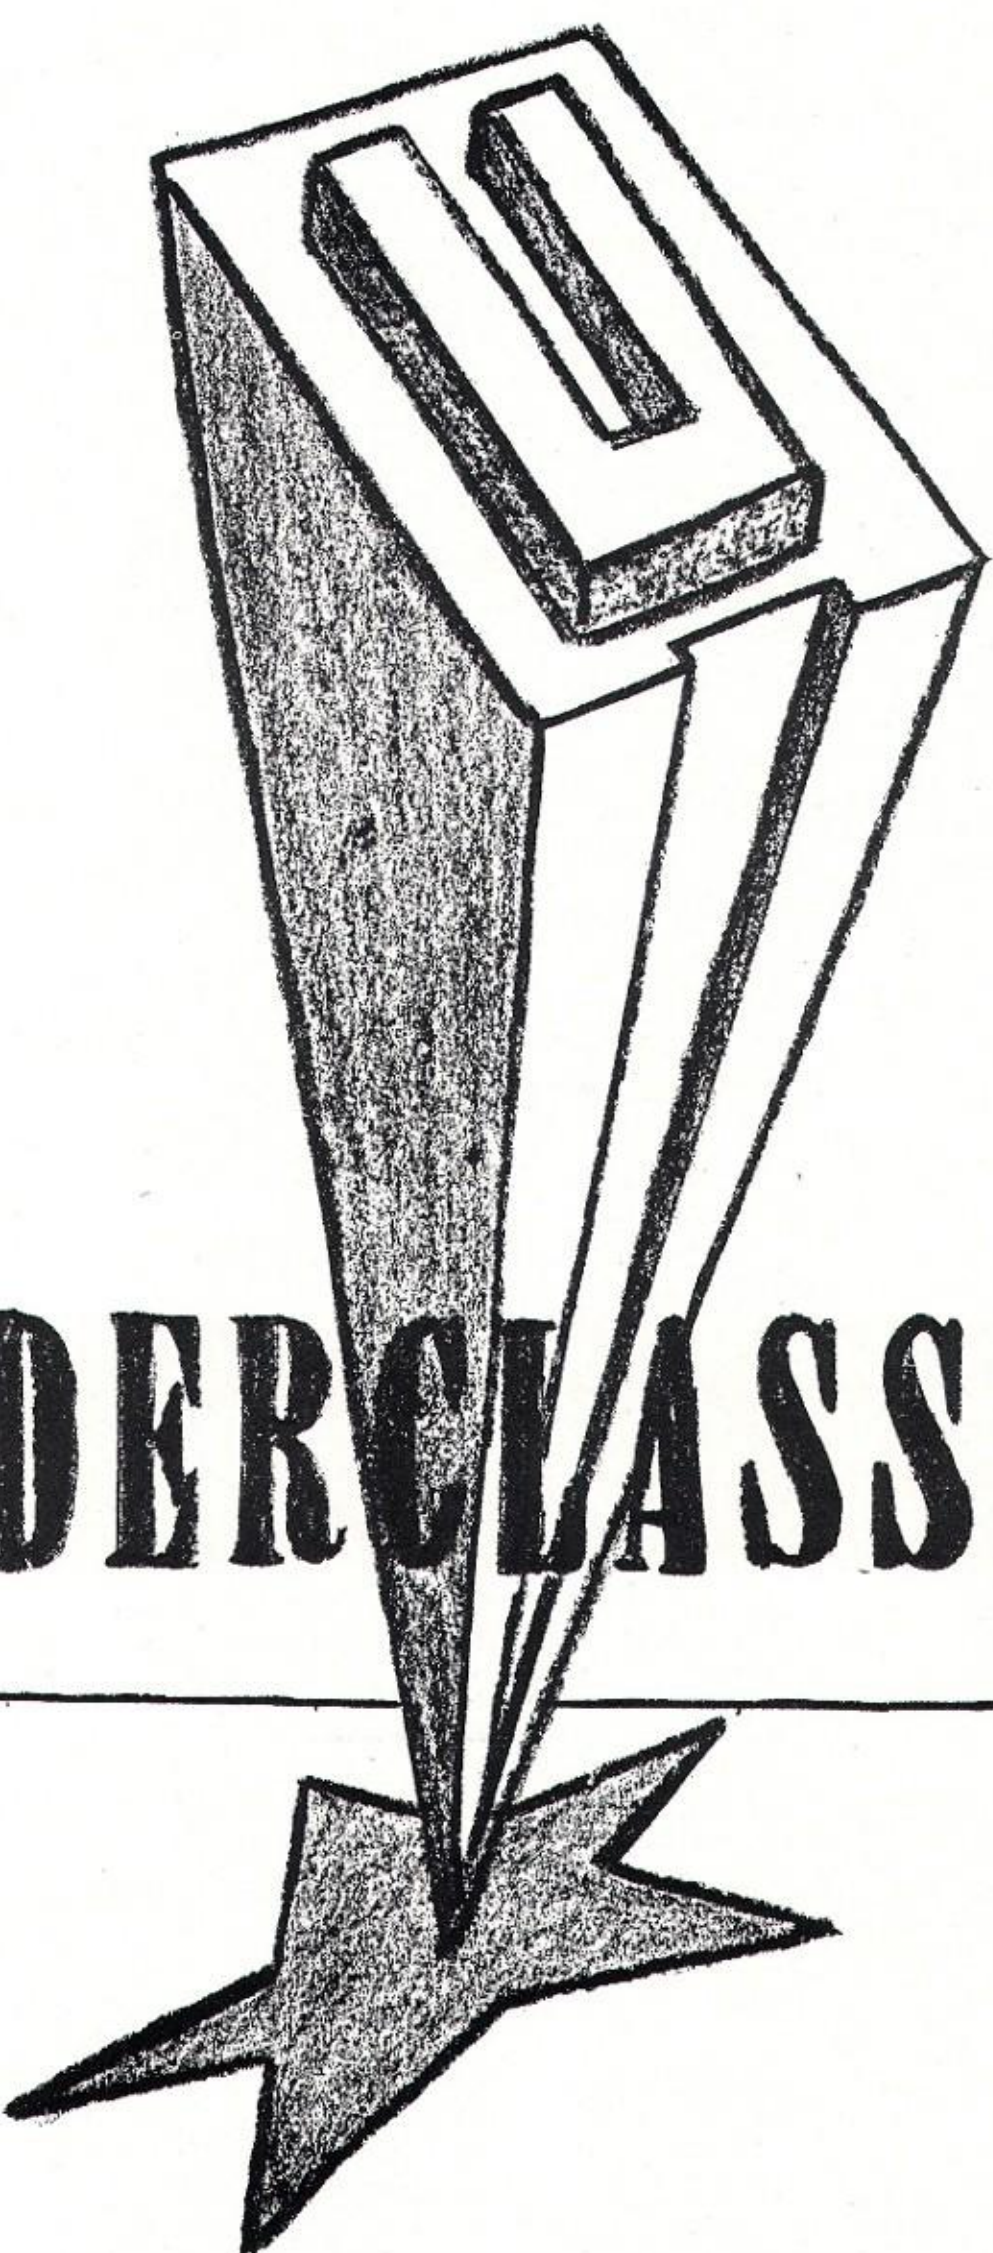

In March the members of the National Honor Society were announced. They were: Dave Anewalt, Louise Begel, Thomas Ackerman, Beverly Watto, Rose Marie Moll, Lucy Kibler. All six were very excited about their honors.

In April the Senior Play, "The Perfect Idiot," was presented and well received. It was directed by Miss Neast. Beverly Watto, Thomas Ackerman, John Brander, George McArdle, Francis Stehle, and George Rontz had important roles.

In May the Senior Ball was held. The class colors of green and white dominated the decorating theme. We all realized that this was our last school dance, and we enjoyed ourselves to the utmost, determined to let nothing spoil our memories of this night.

In May we also went on our class trip which was enjoyed by all. We collected many souvenirs and memories which we shall always cherish.

In June the Senior Class presented its Class Night program. It was well received by our relatives and friends. We are very grateful to Mrs. Theophilus and Mr. Keiser for their time and advice in helping us to make this night a success. A few nights later, forty seniors received their diplomas. Now we are on our own. Our sincere thanks to everyone who had anything to do with our reaching this final day.

T. O. MITMAN
SUPERVISING PRINCIPAL

February 8, 1957

To the Senior of 1957:

The exercises which mark the end of public school life are called commencements. "Commencement" is an apt term. It means "beginning" and the question naturally arises: The beginning of what?

I know of seniors who have told me that "what counted was that they were through with school". To those people I could not, in all conscience, wish a happy and prosperous future, for, whether we realize it or not, the learning process continues as long as we live.

Not so long ago strength was measured in terms of muscle, — today it has become a matter of knowledge, — knowhow.

So my message to you, today's seniors, is to keep on learning, preferably in a school. A school is simply a place where one can learn and be guided by people who know.

ALMA MATER

Hail to Jim Thorpe so dear, faithful and true,
Proudly her colors wave red, white, and blue;
Tho' we be far away on distant shores,
"Hail to Jim Thorpe," we'll sing, "faithful and true."

When at the close of day, all gather round,
Comes again a joy, fellowship profound.
Tunefully raise we now our chorus strong;
Hail to Jim Thorpe so dear, forever abound.

Tunefully raise we now our chorus strong;
Hail to Jim Thorpe so dear, forever abound.

THE PERFECT IDIOT

The high school gang just hates the boy-wonder, Dan. They'd heard about his high I. Q. and they despised his Smart-Me! Dumb You! attitude. But they had to turn to him when Puff, the school's prize athlete, was disqualified from all events because of his grades. Somebody had to coach him and Dan was elected.

To solve his own problems, Dan agreed to coach Puff if all the gang would rally around him long enough to satisfy his parents, who wouldn't let him take a college entrance exam until he was more popular in high school. Fiery Linda, who is to be Dan's "steady" and who fascinates Dan, likes the deal least of all.

Just as Dan gets everything rolling smoothly, a series of wildly funny mishaps upsets the whole applecart. From then on, events build to a climax that is the very essence of farcical fun!

The play was a success and we know it lived up to the wonderful coaching job administered by Miss Neast. Congratulations Miss Neast and Play Cast.

Class Echoes

Are our tests corrected yet?
Aw, not mats!
Class! the bell rang!
Ready? . . . Set? . . . Begin!
Attention, please!
Calm down!
Remove the gum!
Now, who's doing that talking?!!!
Honestly!
Pass in your homework!
What did we make in the test?
Quiet!
Do you want to write?
If the shoe fits, wear it?
You act like kindergarten students!
A word to the wise should be sufficient!
Yes, but there's a game tonight!
What a horrible test that was!
Who took my clothes?
Where are my books and pencils?
Sit down, that was only first bell!
What do we have for tomorrow?
Who's doing that humming?
You're gonna be late!
Single file, please!
Ladies before gentlemen!
What's the next word Bev!
Who me?
Get back in your own seat!

Remember When

The senior girls' class saw Spangenberg.

Al said with her money and my talent we can go places.

Six senior girls asked a farmer for an apple and he gave them raw eggs.

Ann put the crown on Louise backwards at the Junior Prom.

Kay played the tuba in the girls' room.

Bob has his 41 Ford.

Ilona said she would drop bookkeeping.

Beverly forgot the difference between tires and chains.

Sandy and Kay were late for school because Sandy's car broke down.

Mary Lou lost her white bucks.

Four girls pushed George McArdle's car down Center Street.

Richard drove car in the cinder pile.

There was a mouse in Room 2.

A group of senior girls bought a sour pie.

Lucy kicked the green ball in the basket.

Sarah and Kay slid down Fisher's Hill on their biology books.

Jimmy Gimbor forgot Fisher's Hill was icy and almost took a trip.

Nancy Lines fell down the steps going down to Room 1.

Clark cut off the tip of his finger in shop.

Virgie fell down the steps.

Mary Ann and Sandy chased Mary Lou all the way to school with a worm.

The answer Mary Ann gave in her Business Law Test.

Nancy Lines burned the test tube shut.

A snake appeared in the senior girls' gym class.

Sandy Mantz got a flat tire outside school.

Beverly broke the table in bookkeeping class.

Sandy Parry gave her demonstration in Home Ec.

Carolyn Windbeck stood in the corner in room 7, and blew a piece of fuzz up the wall.

"CHAMPIONS"

Forensic Representatives

Row Two (L. to R.) George McArdle, Ronald Hayman, George Rontz.

(L. to R.) Clara Knappenberger, Louise Begal, Jowin Leifeld, Nancy Kibler, Florence Marsteller.

Farm Show Winners

County Oratorical Champions

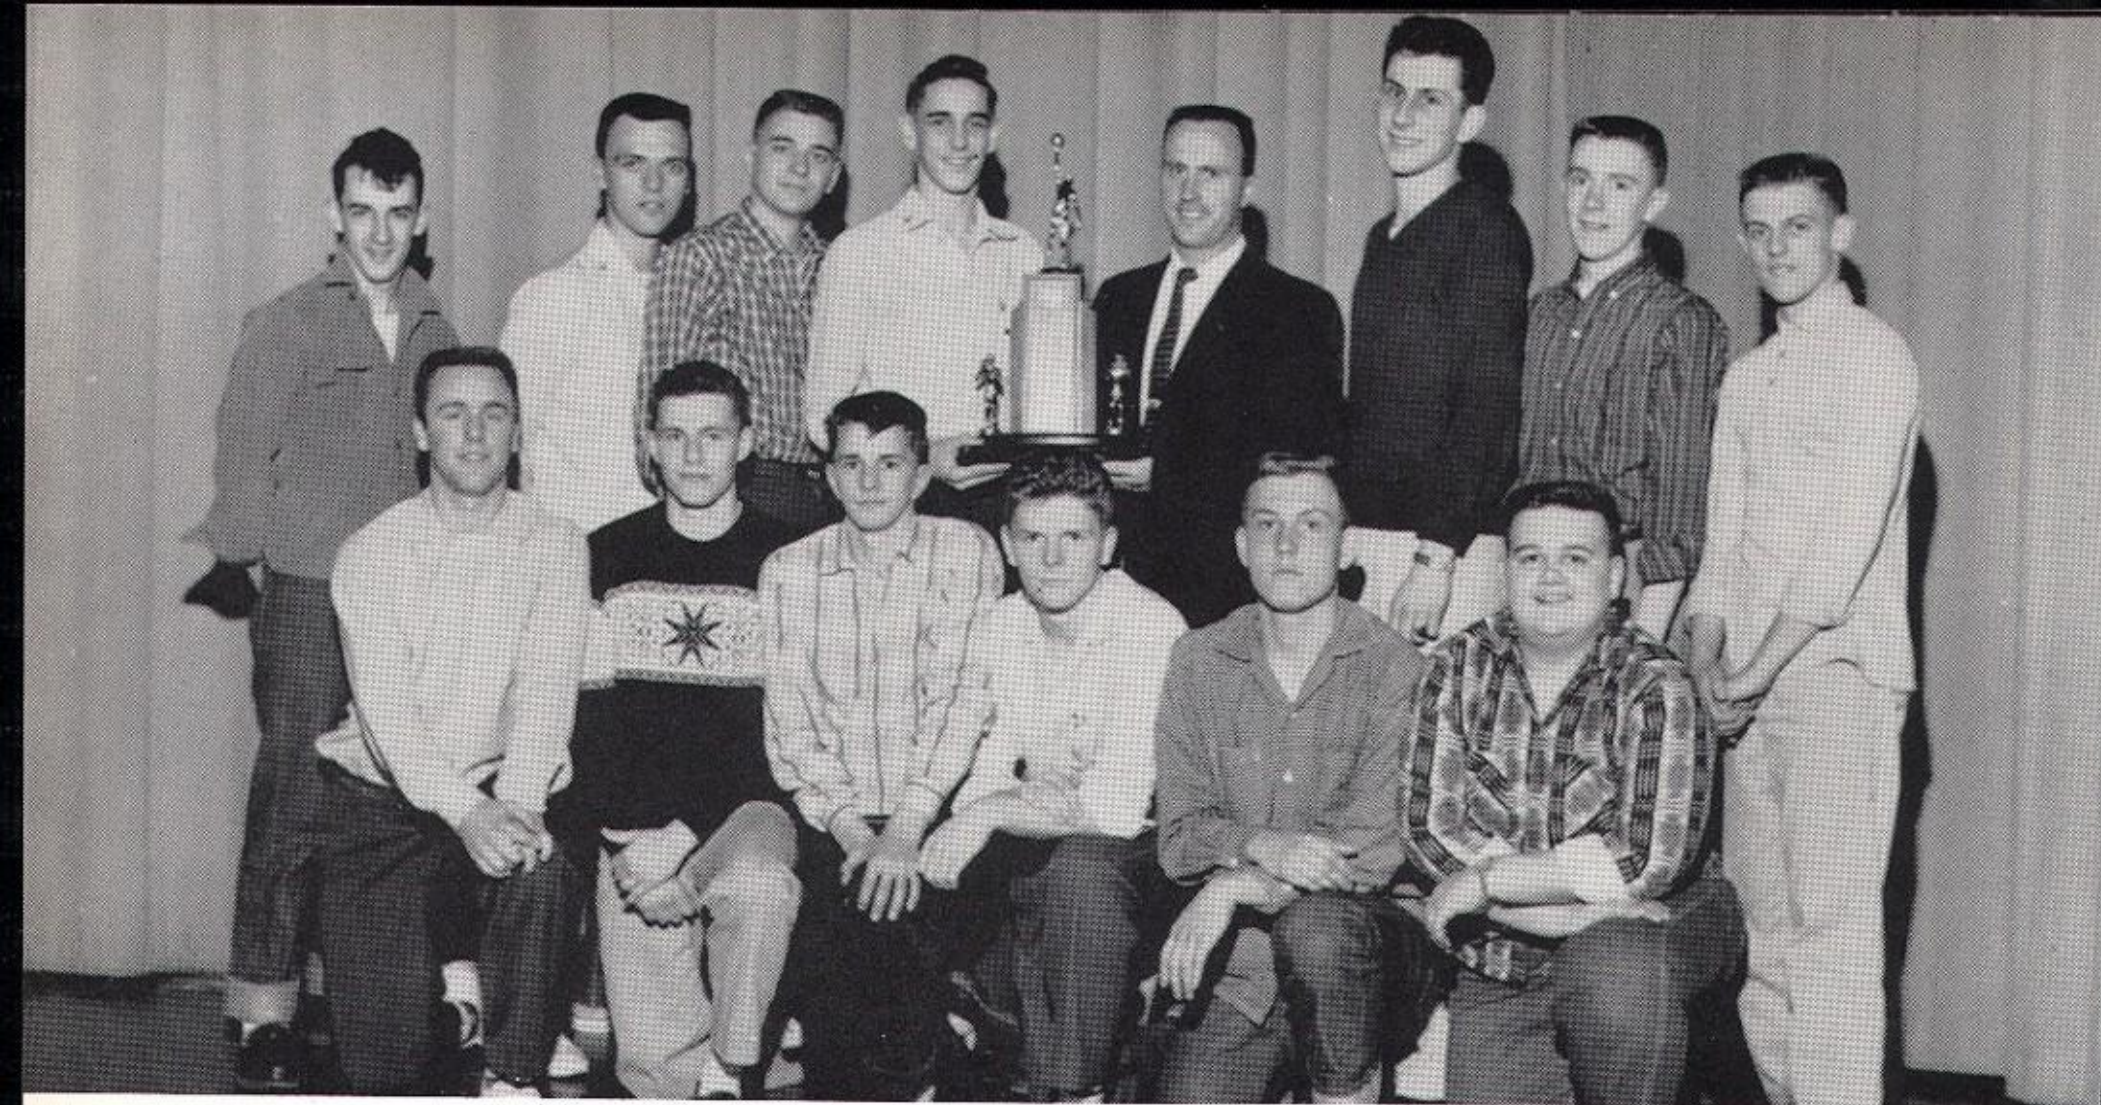

George McArdle

Carolyn Smith

We, the winners of the Carbon County Oratorical Contest, wish to take this opportunity to express our gratitude to our coach, Mrs. Mangan, and all others who have helped in any way to make this great honor possible.

We sincerely hope that in the future the students of Jim Thorpe High School will take a more active interest, not only in oratory, but in all other public speaking activities, since the many benefits received as a result of participation in forensic events can be utilized in our everyday living.
